

InterGalactiCon

San Diego

LEVEL 1: THE START SCREEN

What is InterGalactiCon San Diego?

InterGalactiCon San Diego is a fan convention that opens the door to an intimate universe for nerds, made by fans and for fans. We invite you to Free Your Fandom™ at a next-generation con where you can relax, interact and participate without the stress of larger shows.

Join us and geek out on the coolest stuff from every known universe like only we know how. We're a place for all kinds of fans to gather, see the things you want to see and have some crazy imaginative fun together.

When and where?

InterGalactiCon launches into the fan galaxy on June 15-16, 2018, at the Town and Country in San Diego, CA.

Press passes are available upon request.

Contact Angela Rivera at angela@gomixte.com or 619-254-3818.

LEVEL 2: THE QUEST

How much does InterGalactiCon cost?

To keep InterGalactiCon accessible to everyone, tickets are available for $25, $50 and $90. Younglings 12 and under are only $10.

How many fans will be there?

InterGalactiCon is an alternative experience to bigger cons, allowing a maximum of 1,500 attendees to create a friendly, interactive and intimate atmosphere.

What Fandom Does InterGalactiCon Celebrate?

InterGalactiCon is a place for fans of every universe to come together. Everyone from every tribe: from casual fans to hardcore nerds. Streamers, cosplayers, Trekkies, 501sters, LARPer and more.

LEVEL 3: CUT SCENE

The Vision of a Better Geek Galaxy

Made by fans, for fans, InterGalactiCon is a galaxy-wide rebellion to provide a new experience to geek out the way we want. InterGalactiCon is designed to be more relaxing and intimate than the bigger cons, and have broader appeal than smaller niche cons.

LEVEL 4: BOSS BATTLE

The Founder's Origin Story: Steve "Captain" Kirk

Steve founded InterGalactiCon after decades in management, including as a global executive for PlayStation, and two decades building the hacker convention DEF CON from 150 attendees to 25,000.

The Guardian Council: A Rag Tag Team of Heroes

InterGalactiCon is designed and run by the Guardian Council, an international dream team of nerds from every fandom, with the mission to build an interactive, intimate fandom universe.

Together, the Guardian Council has more than 100 years of experience running conventions and events. Even the head of the security team, known as "The Keepers," is a Knight trained in real-world lightsaber combat.
